The grounds for removal are as follows: 23 Compliance with Statutory Requirements 24 1. On or about September 10, 2007, Plaintiff Paula Allison ("Plaintiff") filed a 25 Complaint for Violations of the California Labor Code, Claims for Damages, Restitution, and 26

Case No. 37-2007-00074685-CU-OE-CTL, captioned Paula Allison, individually and on behalf of all others similarly situated, v. International Business Machines Corporation, and DOES 1 through 50, inclusive. In her Complaint, Plaintiff asserts claims for Failure to Pay Overtime (California Labor Code §§ 510, 1194 and 1198); Waiting Time Penalties (California Labor Code §§ 201-203); Failure to Provide Accurate Itemized Wage Statements (California Labor Code § 226); and Unfair Practice Under the Unfair Competition Act (California Business and Professions Code § 17200 et seq.).

- 2. In this matter, Plaintiff seeks class action certification of a class that would include "Plaintiff and all other persons who were, are, or will be employed by IBM in California as 'PBX Analysts' (that is, technical analysts, telecom analysts, voice network analysts or any other job position with primary duties of installing, supporting, upgrading, and/or maintaining PBX telephones) in the State of California at any time within the four years prior to the date of the filing of this Complaint through the date of the final disposition of this action ... and who were, are, or will be classified as exempt from overtime pay under California law." Complaint, ¶ 1.
- 3. On September 12, 2007, Plaintiff served Defendant with the Complaint.

 Defendant's removal of this action is timely because Defendant is removing this matter within 30 days of Plaintiff's completion of service. See 28 U.S.C. § 1446(b).
- 4. In accordance with 28 U.S.C. § 1446(a), attached hereto as Exhibit A are true and correct copies of all process, pleadings, and orders in this action.
- 5. Pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1446(d), Defendant promptly will provide written notice of removal of the Action to Plaintiff, and promptly will file a copy of this Notice of Removal with the Clerk of the Superior Court of the State of California, County of San Diego.

Jurisdiction: Traditional Diversity

- 6. This Court has jurisdiction over this matter pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1332, as this is an action between "citizens of different States" and the "matter in controversy exceeds the sum or value of $75,000, exclusive of interest and costs."
- 7. The parties to this action are citizens of different states. See 28 U.S.C. § 1332(a)(1); see also Gibson v. Chrysler Corp., 261 F.2d 927, 931 n.2 (9th Cir. 2001) ("The complete diversity requirement in class actions is based on the citizenship of the named plaintiffs at the time the action is filed."). For its part, Defendant is a citizen of New York. See 28 U.S.C. § 1332(c)(1). Defendant is a corporation incorporated under the laws of the State of New York, with a principal place of business in that State. (Complaint, ¶ 10.) Plaintiff, on the other hand, alleges that she resides in California. (Complaint, ¶ 13.) Thus, based upon information and belief, Plaintiff was a citizen of the State of California at the time she filed this action, and still is.

,这是一个人,我们是一个人,我们是一个人,我们们是一个人,我们们们们的,我们们们的,我们们是一个人,我们们是一个人,我们们是一个人,我们们们们们们们的一个人,他

- 8. In addition, and although Defendant does not concede liability, the amount in controversy exceeds $75,000. See 28 U.S.C. § 1332; see also Gibson, 261 F.3d at 941 (noting that, under the traditional diversity analysis, the amount-in-controversy analysis involves an examination of "only the claims of named class plaintiffs"). In her Complaint (at ¶ 30, 35, 40), Plaintiff does not allege a specific dollar amount in damages, but she seeks the recovery of overtime wages, waiting time penalties, penalties for failing to pay itemized wage statements, and attorneys' fees. See, e.g., Galt G/S v. JSS Scandinavia, 142 F.3d 1150, (9th Cir. 1998) ("[W]here an underlying statute authorizes an award of attorneys' fees, either with mandatory or discretionary language, such fees may be included in the amount in controversy."); Simmons v. PCR Tech., 209 F.Supp.2d 1029, 1035 (N.D. Cal. 2002) (holding that where attorneys fees are "recoverable by statute," fees reasonably anticipated over the life of the litigation are included in the amount-in-controversy analysis). As such, Plaintiffs' individual claims meet the traditional amount-in-controversy threshold necessary to establish this Court's diversity jurisdiction:
- a. Overtime Plaintiff alleges that she was employed by Defendant from September 2003 until September 2004, earning approximately $82,000 annually. (Complaint, ¶ 9.) Plaintiff further alleges that she worked between 45 hours and 60 hours per week, without receiving overtime compensation from Defendants. (Complaint, ¶ 17.) Assuming that Plaintiff allegedly averaged fifty-hour workweeks, Plaintiff's claim for unpaid overtime alone places in controversy

- b. Waiting Time and Wage Statement Penalties Given Plaintiff's alleged salary with Defendant, and the length of her employment, her claim for waiting time penalties places in controversy an additional $9,460.80,² and her claim for alleged wage statement violations places in controversy an additional $2,350.³
- c. Attorneys' Fees. Attorneys' fees claimed by Plaintiff and attributable to her would exceed $33,000 the amount that, when added to minimum amounts in controversy due to Plaintiff's overtime claim and her claims for statutory penalties, would satisfy 28 U.S.C. § 1332(a)'s $75,000 jurisdictional threshold. For instance, considering only Plaintiff's individual claims, and assuming a very conservative $300 per hour billable rate, Plaintiff would claim $33,000 in fees after only 110 hours of work.
- 9. In short, then, considering only Plaintiff's individual claim, the amount in controversy in this matter exceeds $75,000 ($30,747.60 + $9,460.80+ $2,350 + $33,000). Moreover, because the Court has original jurisdiction pursuant to 1332(a) over Plaintiff's claims, it has supplemental jurisdiction that extends to the claims of the unnamed putative class members. See Exxon Mobil Corp. v. Allapattah Servs., Inc., 545 U.S. 546, 549 (2005) (holding that "where the other elements of [diversity] jurisdiction are present and at least one named plaintiff in the action satisfies the amount-in-controversy requirement, § 1367 does authorize supplemental jurisdiction over the claims of other plaintiffs in the same Article III case or controversy, even if

Step 1: Divide Plaintiff's alleged yearly salary ($82,000) by 2080 hours to derive Plaintiff's regular rate of pay ($39.42) (see Cal. Lab. Code § 515(d)); then multiply the regular rate by 1.5 to calculate the alleged overtime rate of pay:

 $^{$82,000 \}div 2080 \times 1.5 = 59.13

Step 2: Multiply the overtime rate of pay ($59.13) by ten hours of overtime (based on Plaintiff's allegations of hours worked per week) and then by Plaintiff's tenure (52 weeks):

 $^{59.13 \}times 10 \times 52 = $30.747.60$

² The amount of alleged waiting time penalties equals Plaintiff's regular rate of pay ($39.42) x 8 hours per day x 30 days. See Cal. Lab. Code § 203.

³ Plaintiff will seek alleged wage statement penalties calculated as follows: First Violation (first pay period) ($50) + Subsequent Violations ($100 x the 23 remaining pay periods during Plaintiff's tenure), based on Cal. Lab. Code § 226.

those claims are for less than the jurisdictional amount specified in the statute setting forth the requirements for diversity jurisdiction"); Gibson, 261 F.3d at 940 (holding that "there is supplemental jurisdiction over the claims of unnamed class members when the claim of an individual named plaintiff satisfies the amount-in-controversy requirement").

10. In alleging the amount in controversy, Defendant does not concede that Plaintiff was misclassified as an exempt employee, or that she ever worked more than forty hours per workweek, or more than eight hours per day, or that she is entitled to overtime pay, or any of the penalties or related damages alleged in the Complaint, or that Plaintiff's computation of alleged damages would be deemed correct. Nor does Defendant concede that any or all of its current of former employees who perform(ed) PBX-related duties were misclassified as exempt employees or are appropriately included in the putative class.

Jurisdiction - Class Action Fairness Act

- 11. In addition, this Court has original jurisdiction over this matter pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1332(d) (as amended by the Class Action Fairness Act of 2005, Pub. L. No. 109-2, 119 Stat. 14 ("CAFA")). Under Section 1332(d), federal courts have original diversity jurisdiction over a class action whenever: (1) "any member of a [putative] class of plaintiffs is a citizen of a State different from any defendant," 28 U.S.C. § 1332(d)(2)(A), and (2) "the matter in controversy exceeds the sum or value of $5,000,000, exclusive of interest and costs," 28 U.S.C. § 1332(d)(2). All CAFA requirements are satisfied in this case.
- First, this is a class action. See 28 U.S.C. §§ (d)(1)(B) & (d)(5)(B). Plaintiff seeks to represent a class of "PBX Analysts," and she alleges that the class is "so numerous that joinder of all members is impractical." (Complaint, \P 20.) Moreover, although the term "PBX Analyst" does not correspond to a company-specific position, initial investigation has revealed that, during Plaintiff's brief one-year tenure, Defendant employed in California approximately 30 persons who performed duties similar to those of Plaintiff, and if there were an equal number of persons over the four-year statute of limitations applicable to certain of the claims in this case, the number could total over 100. Cf. Senate Report No. 109-14 (2005) ("For example, in cases in which it is unclear whether 'the number of members of all proposed plaintiff classes in the aggregate is less

Individual and Representative Plaintiff Paula Allison, on behalf of herself and on behalf of all others similarly situated, complains against Defendant International Business Machines Corporation ("IBM") and DORS 1 through 50 inclusive, as follows:

PRELIMINARY STATEMENT

1. The class claims in this action are brought pursuant to Code of Civil Procedure ("CCP") § 382, seeking unpaid overtime wages penalties, injunctive and other equitable relief, interest, and reasonable attorneys' fees and costs, under, among others, California Labor Code §§ 201, 202, 203, 226, 510, 558, 1174, 1174.5, 1194, Industrial Welfare Commission Wage Order No. 4, Business and Professions Code § 17200 at seq., and CCP §1021.5 on behalf of the following proposed class:

Plaintiff and all other persons who were, are, or will be employed by IBM in California as "PBX Analysts" (that is, technical analysts, telecom analysts, voice network analysts or any other job position with primary duties of installing, supporting, upgrading, and/or maintaining PBX telephones) in the State of California at any time within the four years prior to the date of the filing of this Complaint through the date of the final disposition of this action (the "Class Period"), and who were, are, or will be classified as exempt from overtime pay under California law.

- 2. Under California Business and Professions Code ("Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code") §
 17200 et seq., and pursuant to both the class action and representative action procedures provided for in these statutes, Plaintiff, on behalf of herself and proposed Class Members, also seeks injunctive relief and restitution of all benefits Defendant IBM has received from its unlawful actions as alleged herein.
- 3. The Class Period is designated as the four-year period prior to the filing of this Complaint through the date of final disposition of this action. On information and belief, Plaintiff alleges that from the start of the Class Period, IBM had a consistent policy and/or practice of classifying PBX Analysts (that is, technical analysts, telecom analysts, voice network analysts, and any other job position with primary duties of installing, and/or supporting, upgrading, and maintaining PBX talephones) in California as exempt from California's overtime laws and failing to pay persons holding these positions overtime wages as required by law.

- From the start of the Class Period through the present, IBM had a consistent policy 4. and/or practice of: (1) failing to pay overtime to PBX Analysts when these employees worked more than eight hours in a work day or more than 40 hours in a work week; (2) failing to provide these employees with accurate and complete itemized wage statements as required by law; and (3) failing to pay these employees who terminated employment with IBM all overtime wages due to them within 72 hours of their termination.
- This case involves IBM employees who maintained and supported PBX phone systems for IBM and its customers. The term "PBX" is an acronym derived from "Private Branch eXchange" or "Personal automatic Branch eXchange," which is also known as a "PABX". A PBX is a phone system used within business entities that allows employees to communicate both between each other and with outside persons. PBX systems allow a business entity to have more employees than outside phone lines—many employees can communicate with each other within the system, and a smaller number of outside phone lines connect this system to persons outside of the business entity.
- Plaintiff and Class Members spent or spend the majority of their time performing 6. routine installations and maintenance for IBM and its customers concerning PBX telephones, following routine processes for doing so.
- IBM unlawfully classified Plaintiff and Class Members as exempt from overtime 7. payments under California law, despite the fact that they are not exempt. Plaintiff and Class Members worked overtime hours, as defined by California law, and are and have been entitled to premium compensation at one and one-half times the regular hourly rate ("overtime compensation") for those hours, and at twice the regular hourly rate for some overtime hours. IBM has willfully refused to pay Plaintiff and Class Members the required overtime compensation for overtime hours worked, and has failed to keep time records as required by law.

 IBM has failed to keep accurate records of Plaintiff's and Class Members' overtime work. In doing so, Defendant has failed to comply with California law.

8. Plaintiffs seek unpaid overtime pay, injunctive and declaratory relief, overtime compensation for all overtime work required, suffered, or permitted by IBM, liquidated and/or other damages and penalties as permitted by applicable law, interest, and attorneys' fees and costs.

THE PARTIES

- 9. Plaintiff Paula Allison was employed by IBM as a technical analyst from September 2003 until September 2004. IBM paid Plaintiff a salary of approximately $82,000 per year. Plaintiff spent most of her work time maintaining and operating pre-existing software included with the PBX telephone systems, following routine processes for doing so. Her duties included routine set-up work associated with adding or moving employees who were using the PBX system. Ms. Allison regularly worked in excess of forty hours per week and in excess of eight hours per day, without receiving overtime compensation as required by California law.
- 10. Defendant IBM is a New York corporation providing computer services throughout California, the United States and the world, with its corporate headquarters located in Armonk, New York. The practices described herein were performed in IBM's offices in California.
- 11. Defendants Does 1-50, inclusive, are sued herein under fictitious names. Their true names and capacities are unknown to Plaintiff. When their true names and capacities are ascertained, Plaintiff will amend this complaint by inserting their true names and capacities herein. Plaintiff is informed and believe, and thereon alleges, that each of the fictitiously-named Defendants is responsible in some manner for the occurrences herein alleged, and that the damages sustained by Plaintiff and the Class Members herein alleged were proximately caused by such Defendants.
- 12. Plaintiff is informed, believes, and thereon alleges that each of the Defendants herein was, at all times relevant to this action, the agent, employee, representing partner, and/or joint venturer of the remaining Defendants and was acting within the course and scope of the relationship. Plaintiff is further informed, believes, and thereon alleges, that each of the Defendants herein gave consent to, ratified, and authorized the acts alleged herein to the remaining Defendants.

VENUE

13. Venue in the County of San Diego is proper because Plaintiff worked for IBM in this County, and its liability arose, in part, in this County. Plaintiff also resides in this county.

GENERAL ALLEGATIONS

A. Background on IBM's PBX Analysts

б

- IBM employs PBX Analysts to maintain and support its PBX phone systems.
- 15. The job of Plaintiff and Class Members is and was to provide routine maintenance, and support of PBX telephones. Their primary duties include maintaining and supporting software included with the PBX telephone systems, following routine processes for doing so.

 Their duties included routine software set-up work associated with adding or moving employees who were using the PBX system.
- 16. Plaintiff and Class Members are and were primarily engaged in nonexempt work which did not meet the test of any exemption, was not directly and closely related to exempt work, and did not involve the customary and regular exercise of discretion and independent independent.

B. IBM's Practice Regarding Overtime

17. On information and belief, Plaintiff alleges that from the start of the Class Period until the present, IBM classified Plaintiff and all Class Members as exempt from overtime wages. Plaintiff and Class Members regularly worked in excess of 8 hours per day and 40 hours per week without compensation for their overtime hours. Plaintiff's schedule regularly required her to work 45 hours per week or more, sometimes working as much as 50-60 hours per week.

Class Action Allegations C. Plaintiff brings this action as a class action on behalf of all persons who are or 18. have been employed by IBM as PBX Analysts (that is, as a technical analyst, telecom analyst, voice network analyst, or and/or any other employee with primary duties of maintaining and supporting software included with the PBX telephone systems) who worked in the State of California at any time from September 2003 until the date of the final disposition of this action and who were, are, or will be misclassified as exempt from overtime pay under California law. This action is brought, and may properly be maintained, as a class action under 19. Code of Civil Procedure § 382 because there is a well-defined community of interest in the litigation, and the proposed Class is easily ascertainable. The Class is so munerous that joinder of all members is impracticable. 20. Common questions of law and fact exist, including but not limited to the 21. following: Whether IBM unlawfully failed to pay overtime compensation in (a) violation of the California Unfair Competition Law, Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code § 17200 et. seq. and the California Labor Code and related regulations, Cal. Labor Code § 201, 202, 203, 226, 510, 1174, 1174.5, and 1194, Cal. Wage Order No. 4. Whether the Plaintiff and Class Members are non-exempt (b) employees entitled to overtime compensation for overtime hours worked under the overtime pay requirements of California law; Whether IBM's policy and practice of classifying the Class (c) Members as exempt from overtime entitlement under California law and its policy and practice of failing to pay overtime to the Class Members violated applicable provisions of California law, including applicable statutory and regulatory authority; Whether IBM unlawfully failed to keep and furnish Class Members (d) 25 with records of hours worked, in violation of Labor Code §§ 226 and 1174; 26

- 32. California Labor Code §§ 201 and 202 require an employer to pay its employees all wages due within the time specified by law. - 42. Defendant IBM's failure to pay overtime in violation of California law, as well as the other statutory and regulatory violations alleged herein, including itemized wage statement violations and violations of Labor Code §§ 201-203, constitute an unlawful business action and practice in violation of Business and Professions Code § 17200 et seq.
- 43. Defendant's course of conduct, acts, and practices in violation of the California laws mentioned above constitute a separate and independent violation of the UCL. Defendant's conduct described herein violates the policy or spirit of such laws or otherwise significantly threatens or harms competition.
- 44. The harm to Plaintiff and the Class in being wrongfully denied lawfully earned wages outweighs the utility—if any—of IBM's policies or practices and, therefore, IBM's actions described herein constitute an unfair business practice or act within the meaning of the UCL.
- 45. Pursuant to Business and Professions Code § 17200 et seq., Plaintiff and the Class Members are entitled to restitution of the overtime carnings and other unpaid wages alleged herein that were withheld and retained by Defendant IBM during a period that commences four years prior to the filing of this action, a permanent injunction requiring Defendant IBM to pay overtime to all workers as defined herein, in California, an award of attorneys' fees pursuant to Code of Civil Procedure § 1021.5 and other applicable law, and costs.

INSTRUCTIONS ON HOW TO COMPLETE THE COVER SHEET

To Plaintiffs and Others Filing First Papers. If you are filing a first paper (for example, a complaint) in a civil case, you must complete and file, along with your first paper, the Civil Case Cover Sheet contained on page 1. This information will be used to compile statistics about the types and numbers of cases filed. You must complete items 1 through 8 on the sheet. In item 1, you must check statistics about the types and numbers of cases filed. You must complete items 1 through 8 on the sheet. In item 1, you must check one box for the case type that best describes the case. If the case fits both a general and a more specific type of case listed in item 1, check the more specific one. If the case has multiple causes of action, check the box that best indicates the primary cause of action. To easist you in completing the sheet, examples of the cases that belong under each case type in item 1 are provided below. A cover sheet must be filed only with your initial paper. Failure to file a cover sheet with the first paper filed in a civil case may subject a party, its counsel, or both to sanctions under rules 2.30 and 3.220 of the California Rules of Court.

To Parties in Rule 3.740 Collections Cases. A "collections case" under rule 3.740 is defined as an action for recovery of money owed in a sum stated to be certain that is not more than $25,000, exclusive of interest and attorney's fees, arising from a transaction in which properly, services, or money was acquired on credit. A collections case does not include an action seeking the following: (1) tort damages, (2) punitive damages, (3) recovery of real property, (4) recovery of personal property, or (5) a prejudgment witt of attachment. The identification of a case as a rule 3,740 collections case on this form means that it will be exempt from the general time-for-service requirements and case management rules, unless a defendant files a responsive pleading. A rule 3.740 collections case will be subject to the requirements for service and obtaining a judgment in rule 3,740.

To Parties in Complex Cases, in complex cases only, parties must also use the CNII Case Cover Sheef to designate whether the case is complex. If a plaintiff believes the case is complex under rule 3.400 of the California Rules of Court, this must be indicated by completing the appropriate boxes in items 1 and 2. If a plaintiff designates a case as complex, the cover sheet must be served with the complaint on all parties to the action. A defendant may file and serve no later than the time of its first appearance a joinder in the plaintiffs designation, a counter-designation that the case is not complex, or, if the plaintiff has made no designation, a designation that

SUPERIOR COURT OF CALIFORNIA, COUNTY OF SAN DIEGO

CASE NUMBER: 37-2007-00074685-CU-OE-CTL

CASE TITLE: Allison vs. International Business Machines Corporation

NOTICE TO LITIGANTS/ADR INFORMATION PACKAGE

You are required to serve a copy of this Notice to Litigants/ADR Information Package and a copy of the blank Stipulation to Alternative Dispute Resolution Process (received from the Civil Business Office at the time of filing) with a copy of the Summons and Complaint on all defendants in accordance with San Diego Superior Court Rule 2.1.5, Division II and CRC Rule 201.9.

ADR POLICY

It is the policy of the San Diego Superior Court to strongly support the use of Alternative Dispute Resolution ("ADR") in all general civil cases. The court has long recognized the value of early case management intervention and the use of alternative dispute resolution options for amenable and eligible cases. The use of ADR will be discussed at all Case Management Conferences. It is the court's expectation that litigants will utilize some form of ADR – i.e. the court's mediation or erbitration programs or other available private ADR options as a mechanism for case settlement before trial

ADR OPTIONS

1) CIVIL MEDIATION PROGRAM: The San Diego Superior Court Civil Mediation Program is designed to assist parties with the early resolution of their dispute. All general civil independent calendar cases, including construction defect, complex and eminent domain cases are eligible to participant in the program. Limited civil collection cases are not eligible at this time. San Diego Superior Court Local Rute 2.31, Division II addresses this program specifically. Mediation is a non-binding process in which a trained mediator 1) facilitates communication between disputents, and 2) assists parties in reaching a mutually acceptable resolution of all or part of their dispute. In this process, the mediator carefully explores not only the relevant evidence and law, but also the parties underlying interests, needs and priorities. The mediator is not the decision-maker and will not resolve the dispute – the parties do. Mediation is a flexible, informal and confidential process that is less streasful than a formalized trial. It can also save time and money, allow for greater client participation and allow for more flexibility in creating a resolution.

Assignment to Mediation, Cost and Timelines: Parties may stipulate to mediation at any time up to the CMC or may stipulate to mediation at the CMC. Mediator fees and expenses are split equally by the parties, unless otherwise agreed. Mediators on the court's approved panel have agreed to the court's payment schedule for county-referred mediation: $150.00 per hour for each of the first two hours and their individual rate per hour thereafter. Parties may select any mediator, however, the court maintains a panel of court-approved mediators who have satisfied panel requirements and who must adhere to shical standards. All court-approved mediator fees and other policies are listed in the Mediator Directory at each court location to assist parties with selection. Discovery: Parties do not need to conduct full discovery Directory at each court location to assist parties with selection. Attendance at Mediation: Trial counsel, parties and all persons with full surfacily to settle the case must personally attend the mediation, unless excused by the court for good cause.

2) JUDICIAL ARBITRATION: Judicial Arbitration is a binding or non-binding process where an arbitrator applies the law to the facts of the case and issues an award. The goal of judicial arbitration is to provide parties with an adjudication that is earlier, faster, less formal and less expensive than trial. The arbitrator's award may either become the judgment in the case if all parties accept or if no trial de novo is requested within the required time. Either party may reject the award and request a trial de novo before the assigned judge if the arbitration was non-binding. If a trial de novo is requested, the trial will usually be scheduled within a year of the filing date.

Assignment to Arbitration, Cost and Timelines: Parties may stipulate to binding or non-binding judicial arbitration or the judge may order the matter to arbitration at the case management conference, held approximately 150 days after filling, if a case is valued at under $50,000 and is "at issue". The court maintains a panel of approved judicial arbitrators who have practiced law for a minimum of five years and who have a certain amount of trial and/or arbitration experience. In addition, if parties select an arbitrator from the court's panel, the court will pay the arbitrator's fees. Superior Court

5DSC CIV-723 (Raw 13-05)

- 3) SETTLEMENT CONFERENCES: The goal of a settlement conference is to assist the parties in their efforts to negotiate a settlement of all or part of the dispute. Parties may, at any time, request a settlement conference before the judge assigned to their case; request another assigned judge or a pro tam to act as settlement officer; or may privately utilize the services of a retired judge. The court may also order a case to a mandatory settlement conference prior to trial before the court's assigned. Settlement Conference judge.
- 4) OTHER VOLUNTARY ADR: Parties may voluntarily stiputate to private ADR options outside the court system including private binding arbitration, private early neutral evaluation or private judging at any time by completing the "Stipulation to Alternative Dispute Resolution Process" which is included in this ADR package. Parties may also utilize mediation services offered by programs that are partially funded by the county's Dispute Resolution Programs Act. These services are available at no cost or on a sliding scale based on need. For a list of approved DRPA providers, please contact the County's DRPA program office at (619) 238-2400.

ADDITIONAL ADR INFORMATION: For more information about the Civil Mediation Program, please contact the Civil Mediation Department at (619) 515-8908. For more information about the Judicial Arbitration Program, please contact the the Arbitration Office at (619) 531-3818. For more information about Settlement Conferences, please contact the Independent Calendar department to which your case is assigned. Please note that staff can only discuss ADR options and cannot give legal advice.
